

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL IS OVERRULED

Joseph Wakelin is Sentenced to Serve From Three to Five Years in Prison For Causing Death of His Daughter

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 17.—Joseph Wakelin, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of his seven-year-old daughter, Loretta, on June 1, 1916 was sentenced by Judge Patrick Keating today to serve from three to five years in state prison.

The little girl was found dead near the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wakelin. Death was due to strangulation. The father and mother were arrested. The mother was acquitted.

A motion for a new trial was made by attorneys for the defense. The motion was overruled.

BRITISH AIR FORCES CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE

(By Associated Press)
London, Oct. 17.—British air forces dropped tons of explosives on the Druges docks Monday night, causing much damage. This information was made public today by the war office.

It was also stated that one double-seated airplane had been brought down near Zueren, the pilot being killed.

CHICAGO COAL SITUATION IS SERIOUS

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Oct. 17.—Unless a large coal supply arrives in this city within ten days, business industries will be closed down. This statement was made today by F. W. Upham, one of the largest coal dealers in this city.

Mr. Upham stated that there was only ten days' supply in Chicago and there was very little coal on the way to the city. He stated that the situation was one of the most serious that has been evident in the local coal situation for a long time.

U. S. WILL BE REPRESENTED AT PEACE SESSION

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 17.—While official announcement is withheld, it is intimated that the United States will send representatives to the peace conference in Europe, probably in Paris, at which all nations warring against Germany will be represented.

Secretary of State Lansing announced today that the United States though not definitely decided, might be represented at the peace conference.

AYER SCENTS PROPAGANDA

Wierd Tales of Murder, Executions and Cruelty Are Reaching Camp Devens.

Camp Devens, Ayer, Oct. 17.—A letter from James L. Doherty, chairman of the Springfield district appeal board, asking for the truth of reports of "over-severity" to recruits, brought up the question of German propaganda yesterday. Credulous men and women all over New England are having wild accounts of disasters in camp whispered in their ears. If the questions asked of the officers who go away for a few days is any indication.

There have been "reports" every day of hangings, men shot at sunrise, girls found murdered in the woods, men dying by carloads from epidemic and every other conceivable disaster. At first it was treated as a joke, but now the officers believe that there is a systematic poisoning of the public mind, to create uneasiness and lack of confidence in the army.

MANUFACTURERS ATTEMPT TO EVADE TAX

(By Associated Press)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 17.—Internal revenue agents state that the munition manufacturers have attempted to evade the twelve and one-half percent tax placed by the government on their products.

It is stated that the federal agents have recovered about ten million of the seventeen and one-half million dollars due the government from this source.

Some of the manufacturers used rather odd methods in evading the tax. These excuses were forwarded to the department.

Later advices received from Washington state that the total amount of revenue from the munition plants is estimated at close to twenty-six and one-half million dollars.

SOCIALISTS WILL VOTE AGAINST WAR CREDIT

(By Associated Press)
Amsterdam, Oct. 17.—British admiralty, per wireless press.—A German socialist newspaper has printed an article to the effect that the socialists of Germany have decided to vote against the ten billion mark war credit, unless Chancellor Michaelis resigns.

The credit is to be brought up in the December session of the Reichstag. Considerable interest is now manifested in the question by the action that the German Socialists state that they will take.

ARTILLERY ATTACKS ON THE VERDUN

(By Associated Press)
Paris, Oct. 18.—Violent artillery attacks were reported in the Verdun sector east of the River Meuse. German forces have been repulsed in an attack that took place near Chaumont Woods.

An attack on Juvincourt was met with heavy losses by the German forces and they were repulsed after a severe struggle. An attack was also made on Mont Camille by the German forces. They were repulsed in this sector.

SUFFRAGE PICKETS GET SIX MONTHS

Washington, Oct. 16.—Six months each in the workhouse, the heaviest sentence ever imposed on White House suffrage pickets, was today imposed on four by Judge Mulhoney in police court.

Declaring the Woman's Party will not recognize any law in the making of which women do not participate, the suffragists announced that a great demonstration will be held in front of the White House on Nov. 10.

The four who chose to go to Occoquan workhouse in preference to paying a $25 fine each were Miss Rose Winslow, New York; Miss Kate Hefflinger, Shamokin, Pa.; Miss Minnie Montlessey, Hartford, Ct.; and Miss Maude Jamieson, Norfolk, Va.

The heavy sentence was imposed on the recommendation of Assistant Prosecutor Ringgold Hart, in view of a suspended sentence on a previous picketing offense by the quartet, and because Miss Jamieson, in an address to the bench, said:

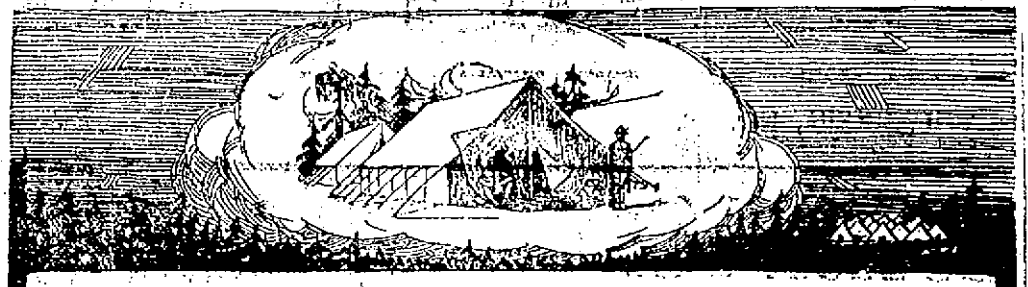

"We are not amenable to the rules of this court. We do not recognize this court, and furthermore, will not recognize New York, Oct. 15.—Judge Julius H. Mayer, in an order made today in the federal district court upon the petition of Marcus P. Knowlton and the other trustees appointed under the dissolution decree of October 17, 1914, in the government's action against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, extended the time for the road to sell its shares of the preferred and common stock of the Boston and Maine until Jan. 1, 1919. The date previously set was Jan. 1, 1918. The order denies any law in which women have not a part in the making."

GERMAN FLEET NOT ABLE TO HELP ARMY

Hurried Effort of Germany to Capture Island of Oesel. One Side Still Being Fought Over

(By Associated Press)

Apparently there is no cessation in the hurried effort the Germans are making to gain control of the whole of Oesel island, at the head of the gulf of Riga. The aid that they expected from their fleet was not a success as the Russians in an engagement between destroyers, sunk two destroyers and a mine sweeper and the Russians lost a destroyer.

The Germans are concentrating their efforts on the Svob peninsula with the idea of capturing the batteries of Sereel which dominate the entrance to the Gulf of Riga. They are meeting however with a very stubborn resistance.

on the part of the Russians and the fighting is progressing.

The Petrograd statement states that the Germans have occupied the islands of Abro and Reno, and the German official statement claims they took 2400 prisoners in addition to a large number of machine guns, hydroplanes and other supplies when they took the island of Oesel.

The troops on the Flanders front are keeping to the trenches and waiting for better conditions, for the wet weather has made the soil conditions the worst possible.

Further south the Germans after a heavy bombardment have penetrated the French trench at Aisne and the French soon after by a counter attack drove them out.

NORWEGIAN LIFE BOATS MUST BE WELL SUPPLIED

(By Associated Press)

Christiana, Oct. 17.—New and stringent regulations came into force a short time ago in regard to life saving appliances to be used on Norwegian ships traveling the war zones.

Each lifeboat must be half covered over with waterproof cloth as a shelter and must be provided with oil skins for the crew, with signal lights, a hand pump, and ample supplies of bread, meat and water.

Each ship must carry an extra boat of at least 105 cubic feet, and large enough to take the whole crew. This boat must contain air chambers and have a cork belt around it. Either this boat or one of the regular lifeboats must be supplied with a motor, together with fuel for two days and a tow rope.

Passenger boats must have ten cubic feet of lifeboat room for each person on board.

HOUSEWIVES ASSISTANCE NEEDED

FISHING FLEET TO BE PAID WHEN IDLE

(By Associated Press)

The Hague, October 16.—Dutch fishermen are looking forward to receive a good income for doing nothing this winter.

According to the new agreement proposed by the British government, 36 per cent of the Ymuiden fishing craft are to be laid up. Provisionally the agreement is to last for two months as a trial period and the condition is made that during this period not more than 2000 barrels of fish shall be exported to Germany. The British government will pay a substantial financial compensation for the laying up of the fishing boats.

The arrangement has not yet been accepted by the owners, the chief objection being that the maximum fixed by the British for export to Germany is less than Germany's normal fish imports.

CHANCE TO ENLIST IN LOCAL COMPANY

The Portsmouth Company, Coast Artillery, now the 9th Company Coast Artillery, requires twenty-eight men to fill their quota to war strength and Captain Bodwell has been instructed to secure the men, and if possible, from the home city.

The company which for several weeks did guard duty at Ayer, is now stationed at Springfield and has charge of the guard work about the Academy there. Evidently the company who now rank with veterans, is slated for more active service in France and before it will be sent the full company must be secured.

Tuesday Captain Bodwell detailed Lieut. Coram to come to this city on recruit duty and he will open headquarters here today and start a drive for the necessary men to make up the full company. Twenty-eight are needed and this presents a fine opportunity of local men who want to do their bit to enlist and serve in the home company. Later another draft call will be made and men selected from this draft may be sent anywhere, divided among companies where they would not see a familiar face. By enlisting now they will be with friends as well as comrades in a fine company.

Captain Bodwell said last night that they had started a liberty loan drive on Tuesday and before night they had secured $3300 and expected to double that amount. He said that the health of the men was excellent and they were in fine spirit and anxious to get across the water. The company is exceptionally well equipped and with the constant drilling the men including the recruits taken before they left this city, are marching and acting like veteran soldiers.

EVIL SPIRITS AMONG THE SUPERSTITIOUS

(By Associated Press)

Peking, Oct. 17.—Since Chang Hsun's overthrow and the defeat of the short-lived monarchy, evil spirits have been reported by superstitious Chinese in the vicinity of Chang Hsun's headquarters in the Forbidden City. They are alleged to be the spirits of Chang Hsun's soldiers who were killed in the bombardment of his headquarters.

Every night they are supposed to appear and proclaim loudly, "We were not fairly treated." In an effort to appease the spirits, priests have been employed to chant before the altars erected in the compound, formerly occupied by General Chang Hsun, and generous offerings of food are made nightly.

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, October 17, 1917.

The Food Controllers Must Act.

There are some things to indicate that dealers in foods and fuel are not going to come down on prices until they are obliged to, and that there is something besides talking to be done to bring these people to terms.

In Boston there is complaint that the retail price of fish is too high to be justified by conditions. James J. Phelan, chairman of the sub-committee on fish and poultry, is bestirring himself and it will be interesting to note the result of his efforts. Mr. Phelan and his committee have no fault to find with the fishermen and the wholesalers, who are supplying fish at prices which do not appear to warrant those charged by the retailers. The season's catch up to this date is said to be 4,000,000 pounds larger than that of the same time last year, and yet retail prices are surprisingly high. General fishing conditions are good and the fishermen are doing their part to place this valuable food within the reach of all at reasonable prices, but, according to the testimony, the retailers are out to "make hay while the sun shines" and have taken a course which warrants the investigation that is being made by the committee working under the direction of the state food controller. All of the facts brought to light show that the price of fish ought to be very reasonable at this time, and the committee feels that no one should be allowed to take advantage of the brisk demand which is caused to a considerable extent by the admonition to eat more fish in order to save meat for the army and the allies.

And the effort to extort undue profits is not confined to the fish trade if we can rely upon a dispatch from Washington, where the National Food Administration says "there is no excuse for the extortionate prices being asked in some markets for canned peas." This year's crop of peas was nearly 50 per cent. larger than that of 1916. Figures show that nearly 240,000,000 cans have been prepared for the market, and yet prices are ranging high. It is charged that the canners are taking advantage of purchases for the army by selling short to the trade and thus keeping prices up.

In addition to these grievances a Boston paper complains that the retail price of potatoes in that city is higher than it was a year ago at this time, notwithstanding the fact that the crop exceeds that of 1916 by more than 167,000,000 bushels. With greatly increased crops of potatoes and peas, and with catches of fish larger than those of last year, there is something wrong when the prices of these foods range as high as they do at present.

It is time for the government to show its hand. If there is any such thing as regulating prices in behalf of the people now is the time to demonstrate it, and it is to be hoped that the demonstration will be speedily forthcoming. It seems to be clear that there are plenty of dealers who will never get down off their high horse until compelled to do so, and the application of compulsion is strictly in order where the offenses are as flagrant as in the cases mentioned.

The farmers have done their work well and the fishermen are doing theirs equally well, and speculators must not be allowed to stand between them and the consumers of their products if the government's promises of relief are to mean anything.

In Springfield, Mass., milk is being retailed at five cents a quart, but not to the general public. Owners of herds at the Eastern States exposition are selling their milk at that price to those fortunate enough to be on the "inside," but most of the people have to pay as much in Springfield as is paid anywhere else.

The loss by fire of Hotel Kearsarge at North Conway will be felt not only by the owners and the people of the town, but by people in all parts of the country. The hotel has been one of New Hampshire's popular summer resorts for many years and there will be a general hope that it will be replaced.

A dispatch from Petrograd says that "Russia has more soldiers than she can handle." Well, that has certainly been the case some of the time, but perhaps Kerensky may now be able to change the condition. Without doubt Germany is fearing that he will.

Subscribers must be up and doing if the Liberty Loan is to be floated in the prescribed time. Practically all parts of the country are behind and there must be a general speeding up if disappointment is to be avoided.

A Chicago man dropped dead the other day when charged ten cents for a glass of beer. It should now be up to the debating clubs to decide whether it was the beer or the price that killed him.

POLICE FIND BODY OF WOMAN IN HARBOR

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—The police recovered the body of an unidentified woman in Boston harbor today. She was the woman who fell overboard while in company with Patrick Canty, a ship's steward.
Canty told the police that he had met the woman in a cafe and that when she complained of being cold, he offered to take her aboard his ship. When going up the gangplank she fell overboard and was drowned. A search for the body at the time failed.
The body was taken to the North mortuary where it will remain for identification. Canty told the police that he was of the opinion the woman lived in Pittsburgh.

NO MISHAP TO AMERICAN PATROL FLEET

(By Associated Press)
Base of the American Flotilla, in British Waters, Sept. 30 (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—During the five months that the American torpedo boat flotilla has been in European waters, its total number of miles that has been traveled is said to be over 875,000 miles, more than the mileage traveled in two years during peace times.
This number of miles has been reached without serious mishaps and without the loss of a single life.

NEW ENGLAND'S TABULATION

(By Associated Press)
Boston, Mass., Oct. 17.—The New England committee in charge of floating the second Liberty Loan announced the subscription for yesterday as $18,245,000, bringing the total for the New England district to $95,873,000.
The tabulation for the New England states is: Maine $4,541,000; New Hampshire $3,361,000; Vermont $2,227,000; Rhode Island $13,478,000; Connecticut $12,998,000; Massachusetts $58,871,000.

READY FOR EXETER GAME

Durham, Oct. 17.—Athletic Director Cowell announced today that arrangements had been completed for the New Hampshire state 2d team to play Exeter High at Durham next Saturday. Exeter has one of the best high school teams in the state and should be able to present quite a defence.

NAVY NOTES

Liberty Bonds Subscribed $113,000.
The navy yard team making the Liberty Loan Drive reported this noon that they had reached a total of $113,000. The smith shop leads, having scored 105 per cent of their quota. This is fine work and the other shops will not be outdone.

More Prisoners Arrive.
Fifteen prisoners arrived from New York this noon and both the prison and ships will soon be overtaxed.

Topeka Being Depleted of Men.
The Topeka will soon be stripped of all her men and will then be fitted for sea duty.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS.

Editor Herald:

You mentioned in Tuesday's Herald that Mr. Roosevelt's secretary, Mr. Howe, was at the navy yard making some investigations. You did not say that he was here to look into certain politicians who have been loudly proclaiming that they were running certain officials. Neither did you mention that the yard officials had complained to the department of their attempted interference. The navy department has tired of this, so it is said. Mr. Daniels wants efficiency—he is not asking about one's political complexion. He has let it be known that he does not tolerate outside interference.

Industrial Manager Adams is working to make the Portsmouth navy yard the most efficient on the Atlantic coast. Portsmouth is back of him and against certain individuals who aspire to interfere with the men on the yard. It is about time that The Herald held these men up to public view.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE THOUGHT OF BUYING A CHALMERS CAR

An arrangement has been effected whereby the Maxwell Motor Company has leased for a period of five years the properties of the Chalmers Motor Company. The immediate effect of this transaction is:

1. The Chalmers car will be continued under the Chalmers name for a period of five years.
2. Those distributors or dealers who have been successfully marketing the Chalmers car will continue to do so.

The appraisers of the property and their engineers report the current Chalmers model a good car and the Chalmers plant a wonderful factory.

The first move we have made is to increase the efficiency of the Chalmers organization.

The second move was to place behind the Chalmers car the resources of the Maxwell Motor Company.

This is a business transaction between two automobile companies of probably no more than ordinary interest to the public but important to you if you have thought of buying a Chalmers for these obvious reasons:

1. You obtain a good car.
2. You obtain a car produced in a magnificently equipped plant.
3. You obtain a car produced by an organization materially strengthened by the addition of able executives.
4. You obtain a car produced by an organization materially strengthened by additional financial resources.
5. You obtain a car from a distributor or dealer who will have the support of this organization.

In this way all three of us prosper in the transaction.

GERMANS HAVE CAPTURED THE ISLAND OF OESSEL

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, via London, Oct. 17.—German troops have captured the Island of Oesel, in the Gulf of Riga, according to late dispatches received from that sector.

Russian naval forces are reported to have retired from the attacks waged between the German and Russian water forces off the coast of the Island. The Russian water forces are said to have sustained heavy losses while the German loss is reported to be slight.

German air forces bombarded the town of Pernau on the northern coast of the Island of Oesel.

In the eastern sector of the Island the Russian forces are in retreat before the German troops.

DOWNING CASE BEING HEARD IN SUPERIOR COURT

In the superior court on Wednesday a jury with Howell M. Lamprey of Jury as foreman was empaneled to hear the action of George H. Downing of this city against Harry G. McMurray of Rochester for personal damages, caused by being run into by an automobile driven by the latter.

The grand jury is expected to report late this afternoon.

SHE GRASPED HER OPPORTUNITY

Grace Hoey, who plays the "Screen Queen" in Henry W. Savage's musical comedy success "Have A Heart," which will be seen at the Colonial Theatre Thursday evening, October 18th, owes her success upon the stage to an incident which took place during her first season on the stage as a chorus girl in "High Jinks."

The company played a benefit for the Syracuse Advertising Managers club and after the performance the entire troupe was entertained at a dinner given by the club. Rudolf Friml, the composer of the "High Jinks" musical score sat at the piano and played the melodies of the score, the principals and chorus joining in as he played their particular portion. After all the airs had been played Mr. Friml started a song then in vogue, and one of the chorus girls sang the words. This girl was Grace Hoey, and in this manner she was unknowingly grasping the opportunity which was to shape her future, for she thus singled herself from the balance of the chorus and became one of the soloists of the evening. It happened that Henry W. Savage was one of the guests of the evening and Miss Hoey made a lasting impression upon his sagacious mind, for months later when she was seeking an engagement in New York she chanced into the Savage offices and as her voice was being heard, as are all the voices of applicants, Mr. Savage passed through the room and recognized her as the singer who had impressed him in Syracuse.

Miss Hoey thus gained an opportunity which she could not otherwise have managed and secured the engagement he sought. Her natural talent had been recognized and she made rapid progress in the musical comedies of Mr. Savage.

DEAD SAILOR BROUGHT IN

New York, Oct. 17.—As the result of an S. O. S. signal flashed early yesterday from one of the boats in the coast patrol service, a tug was sent out. The tug brought into Baylen, L. I., about 7 o'clock last night the body of a sailor named Sheehan.

The boat carried another sailor who had been so badly burned that he is hovering between life and death in the South Side hospital. The fatality, and the accident, it is supposed were caused by an explosion early in the day aboard one of the coast patrol vessels. All questions concerning the death were referred to Rear Admiral Usher. The body of Sheehan who was about 22 years old, is lying at Daly's morgue in Babylon. Marines guarded the pier when the body was brought ashore and halted everyone who attempted to pass.

DOES AIR STUNTS IN A WATERPLANE

(By Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 17.—Lawrence Sperry of the navy reserve corps made an air record yesterday by looping the loop in a hydro-airplane. He performed the feat in a service machine assigned for the practice of aerial coast patrol. It had been built for stability in the water rather than for soaring flights.

After an initial drive over the water Sperry pointed the machine skyward, and kept on until he reached a height of 6000 feet. A quick shift then turned the machine over and the amazed members of the patrol watched with fear and admiration, a dazzling flight of ten seconds bottomsides up, in which position he scudded a quarter of a mile. The machine was righted as deftly as it had been upset. Then Sperry volplaned easily to the water.

He had set out from Amityville, L. I., with a light airplane. A leaky water tank forced him to land on Eric Island. While the calkers were at work he jokingly suggested that it would be better to loop the loop with the hydro-airplane. Jack Lait, former Princeton baseball star; Thomas Dixon, Jr., son of the author of "The Clansman," and Philip A. Thompson, son of the former Vice President of the Bankers' Trust Company, all now in the coast patrol, dared him to try, not supposing he had nerve enough. He jumped into the seat and was off before they could stop him.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR.

That beautiful even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by drawing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SUGAR SHORTAGE NOW ACUTE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 16.—Eastern states face a sugar shortage and today Food Administrator appealed to the people of the country to cut down their consumption of sugar, especially candy and sweets. No relief is in sight until the new beet sugar crop begins to come fast. The shortage is due to the refineries being short of help and lack of the raw material and also the great shipments to Europe, especially France, so that the people of that country would have their ration of a few pounds a week.

MAY BE EXEMPT FROM DRAFT DUTY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 16.—In order to make certain the success of the great ship building plants whereby one billion tonnage would be ready by March first, the Shipbuilders' Board are to ask the government to exempt all men who are employed in the building of American ships, from military duty. They had a conference with the President.

HEADACHE FROM A COLD? LISTEN!

'Pape's Cold Compound' ends severe colds or grippe in few hours.

Your cold will break and all grippe misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged up nostrils and all air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

Get The Herald every night. It is delivering the news every day.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

Rub pain from back with small trial bottle of old, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer; get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and the lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once, it takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints.

EXETER

Exeter, Oct. 16.—The police have had a lively chase for Harry Rivers, an employee of the Washington Lunch who was sent to the bank with a deposit of $130 in checks and bills. Instead of going to the bank he set out for other parts and was traced to Newton where he was seen passing through on a car to Haverhill, Mass. As yet he has not been found. Rivers is 15 years of age and was employed washing dishes in the restaurant. He had previously worked at York Beach, Me., and has no folks in this section.

The regular meeting of the Exeter Woman's club was held this evening at 8 o'clock in Smith hall when the speaker was Mrs. Elizabeth Hale of Boston, who gave an address on "School Visiting in Boston." The members of the local school board, teachers and superintendent of schools were guests of the club. The musical program was in charge of Mrs. Fred H. Blinn.

The committee on public safety is making extensive preparations for the patriotic rally at the town hall tomorrow evening, when the speaker of the evening will be Charles W. Tobey of Manchester. Among the others will be Rev. P. J. Scott, pastor of St. Michael's church.

Dr. Leon H. Jacobs has received a commission as first lieutenant in the dental section of the officers' reserve corps, but does not expect a call (all another section of the national army has been called into service).

Harold McLane, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McLane will tomorrow take examinations for the naval reserves at the Charlestown navy yard. He enlisted in that body early in the spring, but as yet has received no call. Mr. McLane was a member of the New Hampshire field hospital corps, which was at Laredo, Texas, last year.

President Walter B. Farmer, and Agent Ray E. Deuell of the Rockingham county farmers association are this week attending the fair of the Eastern states at Springfield, Mass.

William J. Brickley of Everett, Mass., made a brief visit to his son, Arthur, who is a student at the academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Day have returned from an automobile trip to the old home of the former at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Miss Pannie Murphy, manager of the local Western Union telegraph office, who has been stationed at Maplewood during the summer, has returned to her office here. Her substitute, Miss Helen Sparrow left today to assume a position at Palmer, Mass.

The members of the Exeter Gun club will dine at their annual dinner at Cottle's Sea View house at Hampton Beach on Wednesday evening.

The wise owl tells us we must practice economy in every way to help our country in the present crisis. The wise woman will do so by sending her washing to us, thereby saving time, labor, and expense. A trial will convince you that this statement is true.

PLAYERS PROTEST HOLDING BACK SHARE

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 16.—The members of the Chicago White Sox and the New York Giants are protesting vigorously against the order issued by the National Commission holding out $1000 from each team on both teams until the first of the year so that they would not break the rule for exhibition games after once disbanded for the season. They filed a written protest today with the National Commission and President Tener of the National League said that he thought that the money would be paid the men, but that the order forbidding barnstorming remains good.

GOVERNMENT HAS SPENT THREE BILLIONS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 16.—The government expense since the beginning of the present year officially starting July 1, the official year is nearly three billions. The official figures were $2,971,075 or more than two hundred thousand more than the receipts.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

Take when bilious, headachy, for colds, bad breath, sour stomach.

WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil, or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you will wake up feeling free, the headache, biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give Cascarets, sick, feverish or bilious children, a whole Cascaret at any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

WHITE SOX DEFEATED GIANTS AT GARDEN CITY

Garden City, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The Chicago White Sox World's champions, today defeated the Giants in an exhibition game before 6000 soldiers at Camp Mills. The final score was 6 to 4. Donahue who started for the Giants was soft picking and the Champions promptly pulled out three runs. Benis for Chicago held the Giants scoreless until the fifth when he was relieved by Danforth and while he was effective in sport he was reached for four runs.

I. W. W. DRIVEN FROM FORT RIVER

Quincy, Oct. 16.—Between 30 and 40 men were put off the new Fort River shipbuilding grounds at Squantum this morning. The officials who ordered them off said the men were representatives of the I. W. W. who were trying to foment trouble among the workmen engaged in constructing the many buildings that are going up on the place.

The men ejected from the place said they were doing "peaceful picketing" in an effort to discourage men from going to work for the Abernethy Construction Company, which has the contract for erecting the buildings. A delegation of union labor leaders is at present in Washington conferring with Secretary of the Navy Daniels concerning the "open shop" conditions which prevail under the Abernethy management.

Officers of this concern say they pay union wages and more on certain lines, but they claim they cannot be bound to hire only union labor because labor of all kinds is very scarce and difficult to get at almost any price.

During the past few days thousands of men have come here from Boston looking for jobs. The rapid manner in which buildings are going up is a revelation to Squantumites, who see new buildings with almost every hour of the day. The hospital and restaurant buildings are finished, and concrete building slips for the torpedo boat destroyers are already under way.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS AND NEUTRALIZE IRRITATING ACIDS.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders, caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Boston, Oct. 16.—With fourteen days left and ten days already passed, the Liberty Loan today reached the billion mark with but one fifth of the total amount asked for.

ONE WAY TO STOP SPEEDING

Peking, Oct. 16.—Chinese coolies have devised an effective means of protesting against speeding automobiles.

A few days ago an automobile belonging to a prominent Chinese official killed a Chinese child near the summer palace. The chauffeur was arrested but released upon payment of a very small fine.

In expression of their disapproval of the court's action the parents of the child and their neighbors erected a monument in the middle of the road on the very spot where the child was killed, under which the coffin was then placed. Inscriptions were then fastened on the sides of the coffin denouncing the injustice of the court.

Since then the main road has been abandoned by traffic, but officials apparently have not dared to remove the body, which is watched constantly by friends of the bereaved family.

WANTS BULGARIA TO PULL CHESTNUTS

(By Associated Press)
Amsterdam, Oct. 16.—A suggestion has been made in Berlin that the visit of the Emperor to King Ferdinand of Bulgaria was an attempt to get him to attack the entente forces, and he promised if it was a success Bulgaria would get Salonica.

The declaration of war on the part of Greece against Bulgaria is expected soon.

HIGHER PRICES FOR MEAT

Chicago, Oct. 16.—The consumer, already paying the highest prices for meats in history, is confronted with the prospect of still higher prices.

This was indicated at the conference of the American Meat Packers' Association in session here today.

"The whole world is in the market for foodstuffs, particularly meats, fats and other packing house products," said Albert Rohe, president of the organization.

"Cereals have gone to unheard of prices, and although meat animals have reached almost prohibitive quotations the producers of livestock tell us they have difficulty in raising cattle and hogs at a profit because of the cost of feed and labor."

"This condition cannot continue, for it ultimately spells ruin to the livestock producer and the packer and to all consumers, including our military forces and civilians."

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH 'DANDERINE'

Spend a few cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for a heavy hair that shines with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

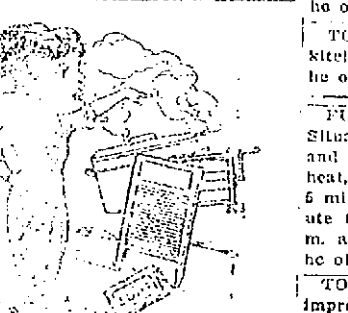

Just an application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots (anah, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

BOARD REJECTS 3-FOOT GIANT

New Bedford, N. D., Oct. 16.—In spite of his plea that he could just naturally walk over the German trenches "like a boy on a park," John A. Anson, New Bedford's far-famed circus giant failed to pass the physical tests and was rejected when examined for secret service by Charles W. Va., exemption board. Anson is eight feet tall and weighs more than 300 pounds.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED AT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Miss Nora Frances Falvey Becomes the Bride of David Francis Quirk.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was the scene of a pretty wedding at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning when Miss Nora Frances Falvey, daughter of Mrs. Mary C. Falvey and the late John Falvey, became the bride of David Francis Quirk, son of Mrs. Johanna and the late Edmund F. Quirk, Rev. Fr. D. A. Sullivan celebrating nuptial high mass.

The bride was attractively attired in white crepe de chine trimmed with silk lace, veil caught with fillets of the valley.

The bridesmaid was Miss Helen Agnes Falvey, sister of the bride, who was gowned in Belgian blue taffeta, with black picture hat.

The best man was Jeremiah Quirk, brother of the groom.

Following the church ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the bride's home, No. 74 Cass street, where a wedding breakfast of chicken salad, rolls, cold tongue, cold chicken, cold ham, olives, ice cream and cake, fruit and coffee was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Quirk left on the noon train on their honeymoon and will visit Boston and New York before their return. The bride's traveling dress was of navy blue broadcloth, black velvet hat with old rose geronette.

The groom's gift to the bride was a Argumarine ring and the bride's gift to the groom was a cameo ring.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pair of gold cuff links and the bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a signet ring.

Out of town guests were present from Portland, Boston and other places.

Many costly wedding gifts of cut glass, silver ware and useful articles fully attested the high esteem in which the young couple were held by their many friends.

The groom is employed at the bottling works of the Portsmouth Brewing Company and the bride has been employed as a bookkeeper at French's dry goods store.

They will take up their residence with the bride's mother at 74 Cass street.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

Miss Teresa Coffy Becomes the Bride of Dennis Long.

The marriage of Miss Teresa Coffy and Dennis L. Long took place at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Wednesday morning at 7.15 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John P. Moran.

The bride was attired in a taupe colored suit, embroidered Georgette crepe waist, hat of taupe velvet, to match with silver trimmings.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Moran, a cousin of the bride, who was attired in a dark blue serge suit, crepe de chine waist and colored velvet hat.

The best man was John D. Long, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride on Islington street, where a wedding breakfast was served.

The newly married couple left on the noon train on their wedding trip which will include New York and Washington.

On their return they will reside on Park street.

The bride has for some time past been employed as bookkeeper at Down's market, and the groom as a stenographer at the Portsmouth navy yard.

Both are deservedly popular with a large circle of acquaintances and start upon their new life under the most favorable auspices and with the well wishes of a large circle of acquaintances.

OUR ENEMIES

What We Are Fighting Against

In time of war, an autocracy is the best conceivable form of government. The Kaiser can hurl all the resources of his country like a quaking thunderbolt, and this unity of purpose explains in part Germany's success. In time of war, a republic is the worst possible form of government, for each of the one hundred millions of citizens has his own method for ending the conflict.

In time of peace an autocracy is the worst form of government, just as a republic is the best form of manufacturing manhood of good quality. One German soldier armed with a machine gun, standing before the University of Louvain, was equal to the task of killing one hundred members of that or any faculty. One soldier with a bayonet can conquer ten farmers, merchants or bankers, just as one wolf is equal to ten sheep or ten Jersey cows.

Germany's spirit is the spirit of the wolf, and America's emblem is the herd, the flock, the vineyard, the orchard, the library, the gallery, the court of justice. Intellectually, some of us cannot understand how a shepherd can watch wolves tearing the throat of the lamb in the Belgian sheepfold and the French sheepfold, while he stands by and waits until the wolf tears some more lambs and sheep in the American sheepfold. When a brave man has seen a wolf tear the throat of one lamb, he ought to leap from his place of safety and take his place beside the lamb. Of course, the wolf has many explanations to offer, but for myself the explanations of the wolf do not interest me.

There are some things, like slavery, that have to be cut out by the surgeon of war. The symbol of Jerusalem is an up-lifted cross; the symbol of Athens is a sculptor, crowned with laurel wreaths; the symbol of Florence is a painter's easel; the symbol of Prussia is a soldier with a firebrand in one hand, a bombshell in the other, breathing fire from the nostrils as he tramples down with feet of mail Belgian women and children.

Any nation that wants to prosecute war as "a national industry" can make it pay through loot, indemnity and conquered territory. So perfect were the details, that today should the war close, as some wish, nine-tenths of all the Pan-German scheme would have been achieved. Today Brussels, Ostend and Namur are German cities; today German cannon are within sixty miles of Paris; today Germany has Poland, Lithuania, Roumania, the small Balkan States, Austria, Turkey, Armenia and Southern Persia.

And witness the impotency of the civilized states to stay the Hun! When 100,000 Belgians were torn from their homes, and started into slavery in a foreign land, their wives and children flung themselves down in front of the locomotives, while the German soldiers with bayonets pried them from the ground. Our Government, our universities, our churches, sent protests, but they have had no more influence than the protests sent to the Arab slave traders in the heart of Africa eleven years ago. The simple fact is that Denmark and Holland, Belgium and France, England and the United States are organized as industrial states, while Germany is a military state. Our people want to produce bread, clothing, comforts and conveniences—that is our business. Bernhardt says Prussia's ideal is war as "a national industry."

And militarism and autocracy are cankers, and God has anointed the surgeon with ointment, black and sulphurous. But for the chastisement of the war, London and Paris, Berlin and Vienna, Petrograd and Constantinople would have descended into hell within three generations. This time the knife has to be heated red hot, that it may cauterize the wounds lest the patient bleed and die. "We must choose," said Bernhardt, "between Napoleon and Jesus. We must choose between the militarism of Napoleon and the sentimentalism of Jesus." But Bernhardt cannot do my thinking. Jesus had sentiment, but He was not a sentimentalist. Bernhardt should have said, "We must choose between militarism and sentiment," and sentiment is tough as steel, and concerns liberty, humanity and democracy.

For Perpetual "Prevention Day"
(From the Boston Commercial Bulletin.)

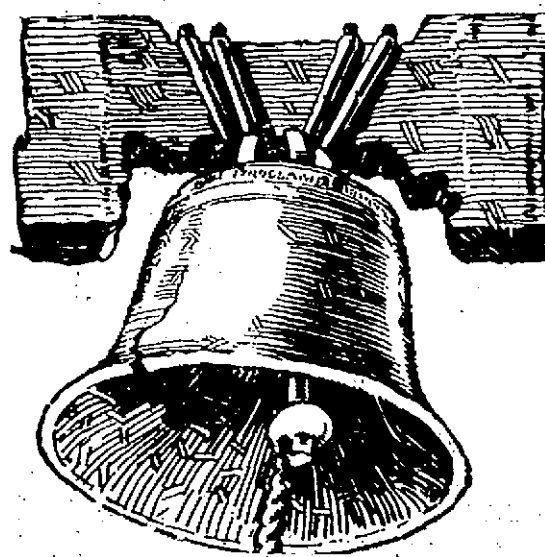

Following the proclamation of the governor, with more or less ceremony in various localities, Fire Prevention Day for 1917 was observed. In many other states than Massachusetts, likewise, it has been observed.

All of this work was worth while just for Tuesday, but was Wednesday "another day?" Is today "another day?" Will America burn up irretrievably two-thirds of a million dollars today and tomorrow and so on until our unenviable average record of another two hundred and fifty million dollars of property burned per year has again been realized?

Our loss ratio, in all human probability, will never be as low as that in European countries, where the building construction offers much less exposure to fire, but diligent care exercised every day in the year, and, especially, today, will reduce the annual fire losses of America, in the opinion of those best able to express an opinion, at least one-half, and in our present state of war, who shall say what diligent watchfulness may save us from and save for us?

The high school boys were out and had good practice Tuesday for the game with Rochester on Saturday. The team have had a bad start, but they are not discouraged and there is no reason to be; many a bad start means a whirlwind finish. The team looks good and as soon as it gets its stride it will play good ball.

DRAFT EXAMS TO GO ON

Washington, Oct. 16.—Secretary Baker indicated yesterday that a decision as to the examination and classification of all remaining men registered under the draft law might be reached within a few days. Congress eliminated from the urgent deficiency bill an appropriation for this work and it has been assumed that the project could not be carried out, at least until money was forthcoming at the next session in December.

Mr. Baker also is considering a proposed change in the process of examining the men which has been recommended to him, the details of which have not been announced.

Discussing reports that several bills proposing to change the draft ages would be offered when Congress re-assembles, the Secretary said he had not changed his opinion that 19 to 26 was the best age limit for military service. He added, however, that he was considering no amendments to the present law.

MUSICAL LETTER

From Dr. Goodall

It is a well-known fact that Dr. Goodall has been prominent in musical societies, choirs, cantatas and public concerts and lectures for the past 40 years. He has retained his health and vigor and his robust tone and tender voice is now well developed and full of resonance, so that he offers his services to the public as a leader, director or presenter; to organize and drill choirs and choruses (large or small) for musical societies or public concerts. Dr. Goodall can also be engaged to supply in quartet choirs either in tenor, baritone or first base, also as soloist for concert work. He especially enjoys engagements for campaign songs, patriotic, comic, war songs, best of classic songs, college songs, national songs of all nations, state and jubilee songs, temperance and Grange songs, Grand Army songs, concert songs, descriptive songs. Our repertoire consists of 700 dear old songs, secular and sacred, home songs, heart songs, children's songs, story songs and historical songs.

Dr. Goodall has had nearly 50 years of service in church music, both choirs and choruses, and can show church music committees and ministers how to get the best music at a moderate cost, which will fill up the empty seats quickly. There is nothing in this world, in my judgment, which will attract and bring happiness to so many people, young or old, as good music.

Dr. Goodall can also be engaged by ministers or church committees to supply pulpit or sing special Gospel hymns or solos.

As soon as he sets out his office and dental business he will devote all his time to music teaching, vocal music and voice placing for both ladies and gentlemen, also diaphragmatic or deep breathing, which is essential for singers, and is also hygienic and a promoter of health. Call on him now and make appointments for private lessons day or evening.

Dr. Goodall is well prepared by 45 years of diligent Bible study and many years of Y. M. C. A. work to preach the Gospel as well as to sing the Gospel on the Lord's Day. He has made arrangements with the Ministers' Association through Mr. Percy Caswell, secretary of this association, to supply churches in the county or city whenever opportunity offers. So many ministers have "enlisted and gone to the war" that over 50 per cent of new students are lacking and there is an urgent need for help now, so Dr. Goodall will be now recognized as the "Singing Evangelist," singing his several hundred Gospel Hymns and classics and old hymns from the best authors whenever occasion offers.

NOTICE CAREFULLY.—Until Dr. Goodall calls out his office and dental business he will attend to all his patients in dentistry as usual, but it would be well for those patrons to make engagements with him directly or they will lose this opportunity now offered.

KING OF YEGGMEN

Title Won by Old Bob as Result of Clever Tricks.

Expert Criminal Fooled Jailers by Carrying Saws in What Appeared to Be Pocket Pieces.

In the underworld the yegg was an expert. Old Bob, king of yeggs, invented, it is said, the pocket piece method of carrying saws. It was a clever trick when he first brought it into existence, writes Melville D. Post in the Saturday Evening Post. When the authorities at a local prison, a county jail or station house searched the prisoner they would find an old trade dollar or a worn five-franc piece in his possession. The criminal would ask the authorities to permit him to keep it because it belonged to some member of his family—his mother, his father or some imaginary child that had cut his teeth on the metal edge in some imaginary former happy home. It was a line of what the underworld calls soft stuff, and the prisoner was usually able to put it over at the country jail. He was allowed to take the coin into the cell with him; what danger could there be in a worn pocket piece treasured for its memories?

There were all kinds of dangers in it. The faces of the coin screwed together on delicate threads, and the interior was filled with tiny saws of the best material. For a long time through this device the clever criminal was able to get about with a fair equipment of saws always in his possession.

It was for no slight accomplishments that this man was known to the subterranean world as the king of the yeggs. It was Old Bob, we are told, who invented the system of planting saws about in the various prisons that he might again be unfortunate enough to enter. His method was clever and ingenious. Kindly religious people endeavor to reform criminals by sending tracts and literature to the local prison. The yegg inaugurated the habit of pasting these moral dissertations on the wall of the cell. The custom pleased the well-meaning people and it could not be very well objected to by the prison authorities. It was also useful to the yeggs.

The little sermons were glued to the wall with slugs, usually a staple of the prisoner's diet. A thin saw of the best quality was thereby held in place for the benefit of the yeggman if he should ever by chance return that way, or for the benefit of any member of the gang who might happen to be picked up by the police. It was a long time before the authorities discovered this trick, and then they found the local prisons of the country to be caked with the handy burglar tool.

Crusader's Doctrine.

There is an old story of the Methodist chaplain of an Ohio regiment in the Civil war who was accounted a deadly rifle shot, and who gloried in his prowess. The men who fought behind him told that, after he had pulled the trigger, he always muttered while reloading, "May the Lord have mercy on your soul." A chaplain such as he must necessarily have deserved the respect of those to whose spiritual needs he ministered. One cannot question that he was popular with his fellows. Now comes an Indiana chaplain with his big for fame. "I won't force religion on my boys when I get to France," he said when he was sworn in. "It's all up to them. If they can fight Germans and get away with it, that will cover a multitude of sins." Here is the church militant with a vengeance.

There is no doctrine older than that preached by this Indiana clergyman. Save for his modern turn of speech, the words might have come from the lips of Peter the Hermit or Bernard of Clairvaux. It is good crusading doctrine, no matter which side you take. And the war is truly a crusade.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

New Window Glass.

An English inventor has perfected a new window glass to keep out cold in winter and heat in summer. The new glass is based on the well-known principle that any gas is a poor conductor of heat or cold. The ideal window glass to resist heat or cold would be a double pane, with a vacuum between, as in a thermos bottle. But the vacuum makes the glass so easily breakable that this is not practical. So the inventor has designed a double pane, with a space between the halves, smoothly welded at all the edges. The space within is pumped full of carbon dioxide or some similar inert gas. If the pressure of the gas within is equal to the air pressure without the pane is no more breakable than an ordinary one, and it resists the passage of heat or cold much longer.

A Gloomy Future.

"This raising of the price of bread by the bakers strikes me something fierce!"

"Oh, I guess you can stand it."

"Yes, I know. But I was talking to my wife about it this morning, and she said to never mind; she would bake our own bread hereafter!"—Brown's Magazine.

Set in His Ways.

"Why doesn't Mr. Cobble use a tractor on his farm?"

"He says he has spent forty years studying the temperament of mules and he isn't going to throw away the knowledge gained in that time for every new-fangled contrivance that comes along."

SLOW TRAVEL IN MANCHURIA

Better Progress Is Made in Winter Than in Summer by Antiquated Methods.

Although it is much easier to reach Manchuria now than it was ten or fifteen years ago, the man who would travel in the interior of this primitive part of China, as soon as he leaves the few railroads must rely upon methods that were standard a century ago.

If it is winter he will trudge over the frozen mud in a cart drawn by three horses. At night he will stop at an inn where he must supply his own bed and a large part of his own food, unless he is willing to be satisfied with a little boiled corn. The walls of his room will be of paper and eyes will peer at him through holes hastily punched for the purpose. In the morning his driver will awaken him before daylight and start him on another long day of joys and freezing.

In the summer travel is easier and pleasant, but also much slower. A boat may be taken upon one of the rivers. It will crawl along between pleasantly shaded banks and green fields, every little while coming to rest upon a sandbar, so that progress is unbelievably slow, even going down stream. Against the current the boat is laboriously poled and dragged with heavy ropes.

By these means the traveler may penetrate into a region where change is unknown and the principles of Confucius still rule. He will meet natives who have never seen a watch or a railroad train, although they nominally belong to one of the oldest civilizations; he will see the squalor and dirt and disease that go with ignorance.

The fact will be forcibly brought home to him that modern progress travels over good roads.

CONFUSING CITY OF CAGNES

Tourists Find It Advantageous to Learn to Distinguish From Similar Name—Cannes.

American and English visitors to the Riviera soon come to know Cagnes by name, according to Harper's Magazine. It is a challenge to their ability to pronounce French—a challenge that must be accepted, if you are in the region of Grasse or Nice or Antibes. Two distinct tramway lines and several roads lead from Grasse to Cannes and Cagnes. Unless you are very careful you may find yourself upon the wrong route. Once on the Cagnes tramway, or well engaged upon the road to Cagnes, when you had meant to go to Cannes, the mistake takes hours to rectify.

At Nice chauffeurs and cochers love to cheat you by the confusion of these two names. You bargain for the lodgings to Cannes, and are attracted by the reasonable price quoted. In a very short time you are at Cagnes. The guide stops. Impossible to rectify your mispronunciation without a substantial increase of the original sum of the bargain. Antihies is between Cagnes and Cannes. Cagnes is nearer, and it is always to Cannes that you want to go. Spell the name or write it on a piece of paper if you are to be sure that you will be taken west instead of east.

Drum Major Necessary.

Indispensable is the drum major of a rural brass band, and the envy of the small boy is he as well. This functionary is about as serviceable as a figurehead on a battleship, writes Zita in Cartoons Magazine, yet his duties are beyond estimation in keeping the tubas and trombones from stumbling into mud puddles and guiding the alleged musicians past refreshment emporiums. His success rests on the extent of his ability to swirl the stick over three-story buildings and catch it behind his back on the music. Big city bands often roam about the streets unescorted by a drum major and feel not at all discommoded by his absence, but a country band would not deem itself fit to be seen on parade without this distinguished appendage.

World's Greatest Weavers.

The ancient Indians of Peru are now regarded as the world's greatest weavers. This noteworthy revelation in the history of textile art is the result of the critical examination of many rich and beautiful tapestries and other fabrics executed by the gifted ancient Indian population of Peru. Though buried three centuries or more in the sandy desert after being made with primitive handlooms and other weaving implements, these wonderful fabrics are now found to be superior to those turned out by the automatic looms of the great mills of today. The primitive Peruvian handloom consisted of two sticks, one at the top and one at the bottom.

KNOW VICISSITUDES OF LIFE

French Art Models Make the Best of Existence, Which Is Not Always a Merry One.

"At twilight from out quaint doors and old courtyards, troop the models, suddenly culminating street corners."

"Beneath their smile, their light manner, their gay elbowette life, nevertheless, a grim knowledge of what life contains. They know the long hours when with aching back and muscles they must stand in a given pose, offering their immobility to students of trained masters. It is not an easily acquired profession. To pose successfully, one must have imagination as well as disciplined body; one must be able to become the tangible expression of an esthetic idea. They know that the artist who uses them bids them farewell and goes his way. They know the seasons when work is scarce. They realize the cost of bread, the cost ofinery. Their standards are modest enough. One certainly cannot become very rich or reckless by posing; but, then, one does not associate wealth with artists or, for that matter, with any form of serving them. These kind-hearted children of Montparnasse adjust their demands to the artist's pocketbook. They know that, whenever he is able, he will share with them whatever good comes to him. He will give them small gifts—a coveted ribbon, a new hat, a pair of slippers—he will invite them to dinner or offer a round of aperitifs at the little cafe on the corner, often he will treat them to a day in the country. No price is too high or too low for the fellowship involved."

"Instinct has banded them together, has brought them from dull and loveless loneliness, from the lowest ranks of the wage-earner, from country villages where art is considered ungodly, from parents who in their day were also models, to meet and mingle in this special world on the left bank of the Seine."—Aurice Rutledge in the Century.

PRIZED BY CAMEO CARVERS

Sardonyx, August Birthstone, Always a Favorite With Workers in Such Things of Art.

It is usually with considerable disappointment that the woman born in August learns that her birthstone is the sardonyx, and even the fact that that stone is said to insure conjugal felicity does not entirely make amends for the fact that it is not ranked as one of the precious stones and is not a gem of great beauty.

But with the revival in interest in cameos the August-born woman with a real taste for beautiful objects of art ought to wish for any other birthstone, an exchange says. Sardonyx it is in the old lists and sardonyx it ought to remain in spite of the newer lists that have been made to give everyone an attractive gem. The sardonyx has always been a favorite stone with cameo carvers. If you recall your trip through the Vatican galleries when you were in Rome, perhaps you recall seeing there the famous Carpegna cameo, said to be the largest work of its kind ever accomplished. It represents the triumph of Bassus and Ceres and is worked on a sardonyx stone of five layers, each layer contributing part of the color to the cameo, which measures somewhat more than a foot square.

Cat and Snake Pals.

One of the most novel friendships ever known is creating wide interest in Pomona, Cal., and the surrounding vicinity. It is the friendship of a small black cat and a large black garden snake on the ranch of George Warner, who lives a short distance from Pomona.

Warner discovered the friendship several months ago after noticing his cat made a regular morning visit to an old dogout on the place. Following the animal he found it was met by the snake and the two played together for half an hour or more. Warner followed the cat every day and witnessed a friendly frolic between the two.

Warner has become so interested in the unique situation of a cat and a snake becoming "pals" that he has posted notices on the ranch that only rattlesnakes are to be killed, lest someone inadvertently kill the cat's friend.

A member of the St. Louis bar tells the following story: A lawyer of Missouri, who shall be called Smith, was seized suddenly with an attack of temporary insanity while traveling across that state.

Stopping off the train at a county seat where he was quite unknown, he walked into the bank and requested the cashier to grant him permission to warm himself by the stove. The cashier, noticing that Mr. Smith was a stranger of culture and refinement who seemed confused about something or other, invited him back of the railing. Inside the railing, Smith savagely attacked the cashier with his fists and gave him a beating. Smith was arrested and then indicted by the grand jury (at the time in session) for assault with a dangerous and deadly weapon.

Perplexing Inquiry.
"Father," said the small boy, "what is senatorial courtesy?"
"I am not exactly clear on that point, my son. But it seems to be some sort of arrangement that permits a senator to be as inconspicuous as he chooses."

ENLISTED MENS

RIGHTS FOR INSURANCE

Washington, Oct. 16.—Treasury officials today began a three-day conference here with representatives of the army and navy at which the rights and privileges of soldiers and sailors under the new war insurance law were explained.

Assistant Secretary Rowe of the treasury department, who is presiding in the absence of Secretary McAdoo, read a telegraphic request from the secretary to the officers and enlisted men, urging them to take out war risk insurance policies on or before Feb. 12 next, and thus avail themselves of the full measure of protection made available by the new law. The secretary emphasized the low cost and the vital importance of the protection to the men and their families in the event of death or disablement.

"The provisions of the law for family allowances, for the re-education of the wounded and cripples, and for compensation, in case of death or injury," Mr. McAdoo's message said, "apply without cost, but the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy will not enjoy the protection of the very important provisions of this act unless they realize fully its scope and advantages and secure insurance on or before Feb. 12, 1918, or in the case of any future enlistments within four months of the date of such enlistment. I trust, therefore, that you will impress upon the officers and men who attend the conference the importance of making every possible effort to induce each officer and enlisted man to take insurance within the time allowed by the statute. The cost is so low that every private can easily pay for the full amount."

"Unless all our soldiers and sailors will take advantage of this legislation, the families of many of them may be left imperfectly provided for and it would be unfortunate were any of them to neglect this great opportunity the country is giving them."

"The treasury department intends to spare no pains to administer this just and generous law for the good of all who wear their country's uniform. I bespeak the cordial co-operation of the officers and enlisted men of the army and navy in this great undertaking, to the end that no soldier, no sailor, no nurse, or other person included in the act, shall fall through lack of knowledge to derive the full benefit of its generous provisions."

Coal Enough.

(From the Locomotive Democrat)
Former Governor Charles M. Floyd, the government fuel administrator for New Hampshire, declares that the people of the Granite state are going to have coal enough to carry them through the winter. Mr. Floyd has just returned from a trip to Washington, where he went for the purpose of investigating the coal situation with special reference to New Hampshire, and he reports the outlook and makes some suggestions as follows: "We are going to have enough coal for our requirements and people need not be apprehensive on this point. The worst feature of the situation which confronts us today is the railroad shortage. There are some towns in New Hampshire which are in great need, notably Raymond, Newmarket and Suncook, and Goffstown has but 76 tons. I would advise consumers who burn from 12 to 20 tons to place an order for about one third of their needs and let the other fellow have enough to keep him going and by following this policy there will be coal enough to meet all of the immediate necessities of us all as it will keep coming."

Armenians Choose Girl First,
Take Chance on Love.

American Principal of School in Turkey
Key Receives Letter Requesting Any One of Three.

Armenian marriages are always arranged, the question of love not entering, writes Hester Donaldson Jenkins in World Outlook. I remember when the principal of an American school said to one of her teachers who was contemplating matrimony: "I hate to have you go, but I should not mind so much if you loved him," that the Armenian drew herself up indignantly; she would not be so un-maidenly as to love a man before marriage.

An Armenian man generally picks out his own wife, one whom he has seen and approved. But he does not court her; instead he goes to her parents and makes very careful inquiries as to her health, disposition and housewifery, after which he bargains keenly for her dot. Without a dot an Armenian girl may scarcely marry.

The American principal of a school for Armenian girls in Turkey received a great many applications for wives from the Armenian men of the neighborhood. Once she received a letter which read something like this:

"Your Nobleness,
"Mademoiselle: I wish to marry one of the girls in your school. Will you get me little Aznif, her of the curly braids and strong eyebrows? Or if you cannot obtain her for me, then I will take Marjan, with the big, black eyes and the shining teeth; or if I cannot have her, I wish Zarroohee, with the straight features and white skin. But do not offer me any other, for I love only these three."

In the same school occurred the unique experience of Schnoritz. Dikran had come to her father and bargained for her. When she was told of her impending marriage she was spiky and sad, for she had read English books and did not wish to be sold to a husband like a bale of rugs. But she left school and let her mother prepare her trousseau. At the formal betrothal she and Dikran met for the first time. When the priest put the question whether she was willing to be betrothed to this man she shocked all the relatives assembled in festive array by a bold "No."

The priest argued with her, and the irate father would probably have forced her by pushing her head forward had not Dikran declared that he liked her spirit and would not have her forced to take him. So the party broke up in tears and lamentations. But the two young people met each other a good deal that winter, naturally taking an interest in each other, so the story ends with a happy marriage after a real American courtship.

Why Swagger Sticks Are Used.

The use of "swagger sticks," much in evidence lately among the boys in khaki, has been misunderstood in the United States. In Canada recruits at any time during the last three years have, in certain stages of their training, almost invariably carried these little canes when off duty, not through affection or vanity, but simply because the use of them prevented the young soldiers from slipping their right hands into their trousers pockets. The finished soldier would not think of putting his hand in his pockets, but the soldier in the making is likely, unless constantly on his guard, to be guilty of this breach of the rules. The Canadian youths who jauntily and gayly swung swagger sticks at Valcartier, Quebec and Aldershot, Nova Scotia, even one short year ago, have since become the heroes of Vimy Ridge and Hill No. 70.

Prize Fighters Needed, Too.

"I suppose you're very anxious to become a soldier and fight for your country?" said a physician to a robust young man who came before him for examination. "You look good and I'll pass you. Do you claim exemption?"

"Well, I should say I do," replied the robust young man, in an injured tone. "I wouldn't make a good fighter; I'm sick, I am."

"You're sick?" inquired the physician. "You surprise me. What's the trouble?"

"I'm nervous, doctor," replied the young man.

"You're nervous? What's your occupation?"

"I'm a prizefighter."

"Well, go over and win a few prizes knocking out the enemy and I think your nervousness will wear off. Passed."

Open-Air Schools.

Quite the popular fad in the East is the outdoor school, especially for the very young children. These schools are generally on the porches of the houses where they are held and are thus partly protected, and at the same time get plenty of fresh air. Miss Alice Harvey, formerly of St. Louis, who spent a year at the Montessori school in Rome a few years ago, has charge of such a school at Lexington, Mass., for the winter, having also taught a summer class out of doors.

Baffled.

"Mr. Dubwaite talks in his sleep and it is causing Mrs. Dubwaite great concern."

"That shows she's a true woman."

"Exactly what I was telling Dubwaite. She's probably worried because she can't understand what he says."

IN WORLD POLITICS.

"We could not keep out of world politics if we would," says former President Taft. "That which affects the world affects us."

It is becoming an old story—this new view of our relation to other nations. But few Americans yet appreciate the greatness of the change from our traditional policy of isolation to one of frank participation in the affairs of the whole earth.

We have long regarded ourselves as a "world power," in the sense of being equal in strength and importance to the chief nations of Europe. But we seldom acted as that principle. We lived like a hermit giant with a high fence around his estate over which he seldom peered, and from which he seldom stepped forth. Now, all at once, we find the fence gone. We did not tear it down. It vanished of itself, when a foreign empire undertook to win, by violence, supremacy over its equals, and make itself the master and tyrant of mankind.

We are now fighting outside that old fence. And we are getting used to thinking outside of it. Our minds are becoming at home in Europe and Asia and Africa. We feel ourselves truly citizens of the world. We see our country one with the older leaders of civilization, a member in good standing of the great international fraternity which already exists in spirit.

It is good for us. It immensely broadens our minds and enlarges our patriotism. It gives us a new dream of our own national future, a vision of an ever-evolving and ever-improving world in which we shall play a noble part.

And it is good for the rest of the world. We have as much to give it as it has to give us. Our historic mission, as we see it now, is to spread American democracy everywhere. That is our purpose in entering world politics.

CONSTITUTION STILL INTACT

Those citizens in office and out, who profess to be alarmed by the broad powers exercised by the government today, might do well to ponder the address delivered on this by Charles E. Hughes to the American Bar Association.

The government, for present purposes consists of congress and the president. The government is engaged in carrying on a great war. It is endowed with the war-making power of the constitution. And Mr. Hughes reminds the critics that "the power to wage war is the power to wage war successfully."

Congress is authorized to "raise and support armies," and to "provide and maintain a navy." That includes the power to conscript men if conscription is necessary to insure victory. It includes the power also to provide supplies for the army and the navy by whatever sort of taxation, industrial organization, commercial regulation, etc., may prove to be necessary.

The president has been charged with exceeding his powers more than congress has. And although enough, it is chiefly congressmen who have brought the charge. According to Mr. Hughes, law-makers ought to know better. The constitution invests the president with the sole command of the army and navy raised and maintained by congress. Congress has no power to interfere with the president as commander-in-chief. He cannot be controlled by any congressional council entailing a division of authority or responsibility.

The army may be used, Mr. Hughes adds, wherever the war is being carried on. There is no doubt of the constitutionality of using it in Europe. Both president and congress, so far at least, have acted with strict legality. The good old constitution is not in danger.

THRASHING WHEAT IN ALBERTA

Canada plans to feed more people this year than ever before. An interesting sidelight on what is being done to put every available acre of land possible under the plow this year, is given in the following laconic statement from the land department of the Canadian Pacific railway:

"We shall produce, over and above last year's crop, enough food to supply one million people for one year."

Next to the crown the Canadian Pacific railway is the greatest land owner in the British empire, possessing approximately twelve million acres of land. Much of the land sold has been bought by Americans for various reasons, have not made the most of their opportunities for cultivating it. Circulars were sent to 7,000 American owners of Canadian farms in western Canada asking them to cultivate their idle and, in most cases, virgin acreage.

Two thousand owners have placed an average of 100 acres each under the plow. Considering that nearly every acre of wheat per acre is a conservative estimate and that the average wheat yield for western Canada runs fifty-four bushels an acre, it is estimated that four million more bushels of wheat will be grown this year than last. Estimating five bushels of wheat to a barrel of flour, this represents 800,000 barrels of flour. Each barrel can be transformed into 260 loaves of bread, which gives a grand total of two hundred million loaves of bread, or food enough for one million people.

When everything has been made easy for you—when one hour a day spent with the L.C.S. in the quiet of your own home will bring you a bigger income, more comfort, more pleasures, all that success means—can you afford to let another priceless hour of spare time go to waste? Make your start today by marking and mailing the coupon in the corner.

How many surprises there are concealed in the jungle of the new federal revenue bill nobody knows. But one amazing little "joker" has already been discovered. It is the provision which

Postmaster-General Burleson had excluded it from the mails. "Although the company is convinced that the publication does not violate any law," the announcement today says, "It has nevertheless decided to suspend until such time as the constitutionality of the law has been passed upon by the United States supreme court, and even though such law may be declared valid, until such time when it has been determined whether Bull violates the law."

In view of Postmaster-General Burleson's rules, the announcement

A KING'S SECRET

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

"What are you doing, Jean?" asked a soldier of his comrade in barracks in Paris.

"I am commemorating the scene we witnessed today."

He was having tattooed on his right arm in India ink a picture of a guillotine with a figure lying on it.

"What are you doing now?" asked the other again.

"I am beginning to have tattooed under the picture of the guillotine the words 'Death to kings and tyrants.'"

These men had been stationed with their corps about the scaffold on which Louis XVI. had that day been beheaded. He who tattooed his arm was young and an enthusiastic revolutionist. So devoted was he to the cause of the people of France against their king that he did not suppose he would ever be a royalist. As to his being a king, that of course was absurd. He was but a French peasant and a sergeant in the ranks of the army.

But that was an age when the people of France rose to the surface. The kings and nobles passed away, and the commoners took their places. A great commander arose, and with him he pulled up many others. Among them was the soldier who had tattooed his arm. Sergeant Jean Bernadotte under Napoleon became a marshal of France and married a relative of the emperor.

During the early part of the nineteenth century Bernadotte was conquering kingdoms. He did not make republicans of them. He had been a republican and had made up his mind that the government France must need was a monarchy, with himself at its head. The people he conquered he placed under the control of kings, and these kings were usually members of his own family. Even if Napoleon did not conquer a kingdom his influence was so great that he could control its government.

The throne of Sweden became vacant, and Napoleon nominated whom? The man who had stood guard over his king when he was executed and had tattooed a picture of the deed on his right arm with the words under it "Death to kings and tyrants."

Here was a king with his own condemnation indelibly stamped on his person. There was no eliminating it. The king was doomed to wear the now hated picture of the death of his sovereign till his own death should destroy it.

The supreme object of the king of Sweden's life was to guard his secret. No valet was called upon to hand him his clothing when he dressed in the morning or to take it from him when he disrobed at night. The office of master of the robes was a secure one. It had not been for that which long like a serpent to his arm he might have at times forgotten that he was a French peasant of whom another common monarch had made a king. His neglected spot would not rot. In the morning when he performed his ablutions there it was bared to his gaze. At night when he disrobed it stared at him as with the malicious eyes of a serpent.

In those days when a person was ill the doctors drew blood from him. This was done by lancing the right arm. There is a story that the king of Sweden fell ill, and the doctors suggested that he bare his right arm to be bled. The king refused. The doctors told his majesty that if he did not permit them to bleed him they would not be responsible as to what might happen to him. The king would not yield, but bared his left arm. He was told that it would not be professional to bleed him on his left arm. Nevertheless, since the king would not yield, he was bled from his left arm.

The king recovered, but he was destined to die in his bed. When his last illness came upon him and he believed his end was approaching he sent for Dr. Gorgensen, his principal physician, and charged him in case he died to see that his right arm was exposed to no one except himself. He alone was to possess the secret under a pledge that he would not reveal it. The physician made the pledge, promising that he would personally superintend the laying out of the body. The king did not exact a promise that the doctor would not examine the arm about which so much curiosity had been excited by the king's refusing to be bled from it. Gorgensen might consider it his duty to make the secret public, having been confided with it and knowing that it did not affect the state, he would likely refrain from divulging it.

When the king was known to be dead Dr. Gorgensen sent every one out of the room and, having locked the doors, lifted the sheet that covered the dead sovereign's right arm. There was the guillotine, the body strapped to it and the words "Death to kings and tyrants."

Many years had elapsed since that scene was made and those words written. Great had been the rise of the man who had stood looking on as one of the grand attending the execution of the king. But the doctor knew what the world knew—that the dead king had been a French peasant, a soldier in the ranks, and rumor had it that he had been present as one of the guard at the beheading of the king of France. Gorgensen divulged the rest.

Strange it is that this peasant king was the only person whom Napoleon treated a sovereign whose descendant now sits on a throne.

HOW To Preserve Fruit Without
Using Any Sugar

FRUIT for use in pies or salads or as stewed fruit can be put up or canned without the use of any sugar at all, according to the canning specialists of the agricultural department at Washington. They therefore advise those who, because of the high price of sugar, have been thinking of reducing the amount of fruit they put up, to can as much of their surplus as possible by the use of boiling water when sugar syrup is beyond their means. Any fruit, they say, may be successfully sterilized and retained in the pack by simply adding boiling water instead of the hot sirup. The use of sugar, of course, is desirable in the canning of all kinds of fruits and makes a better and ready sweetened product. Moreover, most of the fruits when canned in water alone do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color as well as fruit put up in sirup. Fruit canned without sugar to be used for sauces or desserts must be sweetened.

Can the product the same day it is picked is the direction. Cut, stem or seed, and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until it is clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars or tin cans until they are full. Use the handle of a tablespoon, wooden ladle or table knife for packing purposes. These instructions declare. Pour over the fruit boiling water from a kettle, place rubbers and caps in position, partially seal if using glass jars, seal completely if using tin cans. Place the containers in a sterilizing vat, such as a wash boiler with false bottom, or other receptacle improvised for the purpose. If using a hot water bath outfit, process for thirty minutes, count time after the water has reached the boiling point; the water must cover the highest jar in container. After sterilizing, remove packs, seal glass jars, wrap in paper to prevent bleaching and store in a dry, cool place. If you are canning in tin cans it will improve the product, these instructions say, to plunge the cans quickly into cold water immediately after sterilization. When using a steam pressure canner instead of the hot water bath sterilize for ten minutes with five pounds of steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over ten pounds.

THE WHITE RACES.

Why They Are Unable to Colonize the Tropics.

One reason—and a most important one—why white races are unable to colonize the tropics, dying out inevitably in a generation or two, is that they have not enough sweat glands. The sweat glands are the refrigerating apparatus of the body. They draw water from the blood and pour it out upon the surface of the skin, where its evaporation keeps the temperature of the body down. That is why we make a person with a fever perspire profusely. It lowers the temperature. In drawing off the water the sweat glands draw off also many impurities from the blood, but their most important function is the regulation of the temperature of the blood.

Two University of Chicago students, Elbert Clark and Rushkin H. Hamon, made a count of the sweat glands in the several races in the Philippine Islands. This they have just published. Their report shows that for every square centimeter of the skin area on the fingers white Americans have 558 sweat glands, American negroes have 597, Filipinos 633, Moros 684, adult Negritos 700, Mindus 739 and Negrito youths and children 939.

As all the sweat glands are fully formed at birth and their number remains the same throughout life, the greater number found among the Negrito youths is no doubt due to a corresponding difference in size of individuals. As the body grows the skin area increases and the glands become more dispersed.

It is evident that 709 sweat glands will pour out nearly 27 per cent more perspiration than will 558. Therefore there will be 27 per cent more evaporation, and so the Negrito is comparatively comfortable in a tropical heat that the white man finds almost unbearable.

How to Cure an Attack of Choking Without Doctor.

Choking is one of the most uncomfortable of sensations and if it continues long enough is very dangerous. If the foreign body that causes the choking lodges back of the pharynx it obstructs the passage to the lungs and causes the sufferer to get blue, gasp and the eyes to bulge out, and if not soon removed death will ensue. If, on the other hand, the substance passes on into the gullet and sticks it will cause a great difficulty in swallowing, but no cough or difficulty in breathing. The old treatment of slapping such a sufferer on the back is an excellent one, as this often helps to dislodge the trouble. If the foreign body is in the pharynx or back part of the mouth it can be often dislodged by pushing with the finger, or if this is unsuccessful it causes vomiting, which may bring it out of the throat.

How Water May Be Run Noiselessly For a Bath.

In running water for a bath the rush of water is apt to disturb occupants of the house who may be sleeping. If the hour is especially early or late, to avoid the noise slip the bath spray over the faucet. The water will flow quietly and quite as rapidly. If you have no bath spray install with a towel and water will go through it.

CHINESE POLITICS
FEVER HEAT

(By Associated Press)

Peking, Oct. 17.—Constitutionalism is the wall behind which contending factions in China are taking refuge. Premier Tuan Chi-jui insists that the republic which he re-established in Peking with Vice-President Feng Kuo-chang at its head, is the constitutional government of China.

The so-called parliament at Canton consisting of fifty or sixty members of the dissolved parliament insists that it is the constitutional government of China, and that Li Yuan-hung still is the president.

The "constitutionalists," now active in south China under the direction of Sun Yat-sen, have contested every important change in the central government during the last few months, and denounced it as unconstitutional. They say Li Yuan-hung had no right to dissolve parliament, and that there certainly is nothing in the Nanking provisional constitution which justified such action.

Consequently, according to their line of reasoning, Feng Kuo-chang is neither the legal president nor the legal acting president of China.

There is some doubt as to what Feng Kuo-chang's own contention is as to his legal status. While he has permitted all foreign legations to be presented to him as president and signs official documents as president, he is represented in provincial authorities as being only acting president. It is believed that Feng Kuo-chang is undoubtedly anxious to be elected president by a parliament legally constituted, or constituted as legally as it is possible to do so under the present unsettled conditions in China. He has held out against the plan of his cabinet to have a national council formed with five members from each province to act as a parliament.

Feng Kuo-chang heads a de facto government while factually exists in Peking, and has the support of nineteen provinces and the recognition of all important foreign powers. Therefore, the efforts of the opposition in the south to oppose the Peking government and deny its legal existence, thus far seem futile.

MINE SWEEPERS PROCEED THE SUBMARINES

(By Associated Press)

Copenhagen, Oct. 16—War operations in the North Sea, especially the activity of the German fleet have been in view of the residents of the west coast of Jutland all summer. So frequent have been the maneuvers of the German fleet along the coast that the people of Holslands Downs have become quite well acquainted with the German naval tactics.

Zeppelins, water planes, mine vessels, torpede boats, destroyers and submarines, day after day along the coast outside the territorial limit and occasionally the sounds of guns at a distance carries the message that the English naval forces are not idle either.

When Zeppelins or waterplanes show themselves in the south off the Downs above the international water, it seldom takes a long time before the German mine sweepers two and two together, often several pairs in company make their appearance in the south, and it does not require a very sharp observer to find out that lined in between each pair of mine sweepers is a submarine. If the flying craft signal peace and no danger, the trawlers proceed boldly, stopping only at the northern end of the mine belt, where they turn round; the submarines evidently do not any longer need their assistants.

Until midsummer the trawlers used to stop a little before they were off Sandevig. Later on after the extension of the English mine area, they suddenly proceeded farther north, until they reached the islands.

GERMAN PLAN FAILED

(By Associated Press)

Christiania, Oct. 17.—The German plans for destroying the world's commerce have failed, says the Norwegian Shipping Magazine, which adds that "there is no great danger of the disappearance of merchant ships from the seas, by reason of torpedoing for at least ten years."

The article is accompanied by a chart showing the curve of English and French losses for four months, March to June. "The allies have every reason to be of good courage when they look back on these results," says the writer, "and they may await the future U-boat war with confidence. The chart curves show favorable results for England, and this may be ascribed partly to the arrival of merchant ships." He believes that the story of 1915-16 will be repeated, that "the U-boats will be crippled unless or until the Central Powers can find new inventions which will make them powerful enough to gain the upper hand again."

Another reason for this favorable result, says the writer, is the fact that when the U-boat war started in March, Germany sent out every U-boat she could muster, good, bad, and indifferent, and the English defense, which was ready, "reaped a rich harvest and crippled the dangerous enemy for the ensuing months." Failure of the submarines and not a few compliments, marine war also is attributed in part to faulty construction of the latest German U-boat.

The local coast artillery company lack twenty-eight men for their quota, and an attempt will be made to get them here, if not the number will be filled from the national army.

WOMEN PHYSICIANS INCREASING

London, Oct. 17.—The woman doctor is increasing in numbers very rapidly in England. At present one of every three medical students in the country is a woman.

The minimum course of study at present required in England is five years. The prospectus of a leading London medical school estimates the minimum cost for this period at $5,000.

CABLE BRIEFS

Amsterdam, Oct. 16.—Measures are being taken in Germany for the utilization of the canals and inland waterways. Owners of vessels on inland waterways will be obliged to offer transport facilities according to a fixed schedule of rates.

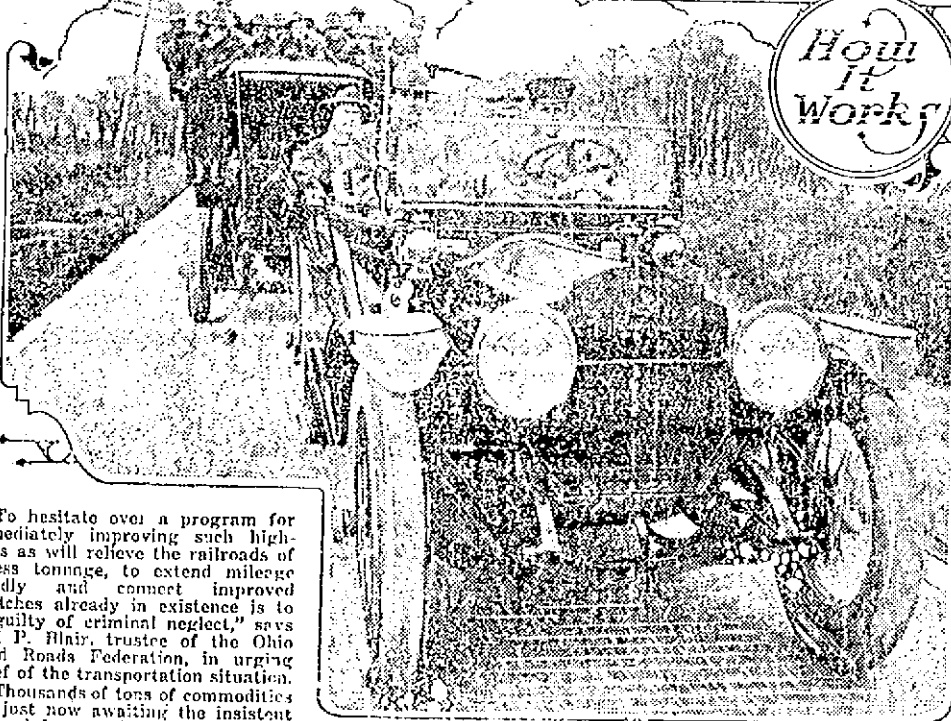

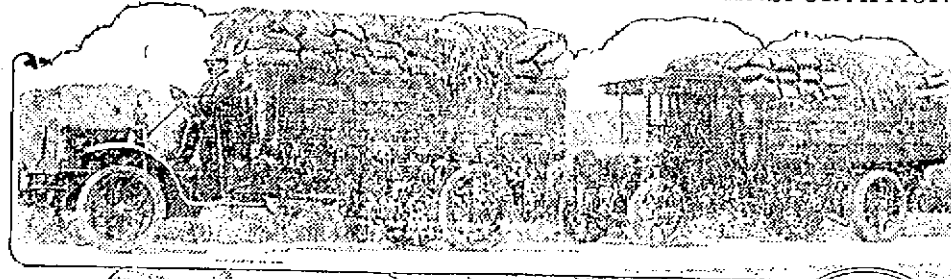

The plan, it is stated will remain in force for the duration of the exceptional circumstances of war economy. During the transition period after the declaration of peace, the control will continue for the transport of the returning troops and war material, as well as the expected vast increase of business traffic will strain to the utmost all means of transport.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The municipal council of Paris has offered a thousand yards square of ground on the Champ de Mars, where the exposition of 1900 was located, to American universities for the construction of the American Students' House. It is understood that the work of construction will begin at an early date.

London, Oct. 16.—The linen manufacturers of England, Scotland and Ireland are somewhat anxious about their supplies owing to the capture of Riga by the Germans. Riga was their chief source and now that the enemy is in possession they are experimenting with nettles, the fibre of which is to be used for the making of yarn and cotton.

Kuling, China, Oct. 16.—Foreign residents of this mountain resort are indignant over the action of the Chinese government which has converted the resort into a refuge for Germans and Austrians. The government issued an order permitting Germans and Austrians to enter here, but forbidding them to leave. As the living expenses are low and many cottages are available, Germans have rented these and are converting them into winter houses.

WOULD COOPER TRUNK HIGHWAYS FOR WAR TRANSPORTATION

"To hesitate over a program for immediately improving such highways as will relieve the railroads of excess tonnage, to extend mileage rapidly and connect improved stretches already in existence is to be guilty of criminal neglect," says Will P. Blair, trustee of the Ohio Good Roads Federation, in urging relief of the transportation situation. "Thousands of tons of commodities are just now awaiting the insistent demand for cars in which to load, a condition which has been of growing seriousness in the past three years."

"As the necessities for war materials become expanded, the general industries of the country will be further disturbed by the increased use of present transportation facilities. This situation will shortly become intensified by the great increase of crops so widely urged upon the country."

"It is quite apparent that transportation is no longer a problem of mere convenience, nor is it one of commercial advantage. It is a question of bread and meat and the guarantee of the ultimate endurance of the country. Our main travelled roads or trunk highways should bear the same reliability for the truck, or for the horse or gas propelled vehicle, that the railway track bears to train service."

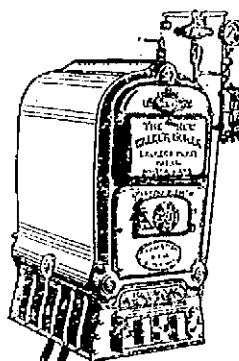

"Evidence is abundant as to the needed types of road to serve motor truck transportation in order to take full advantage of this most important transportation relief. Transportation must meet the utmost needs of the country if we are to develop with the greatest freedom our tremendous agricultural and industrial war resources."

CHILD BORN WITH TOOTH

Onelda, N. Y., Oct. 15.—A daughter, Virginia Pearl, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis North of 119 Madison street. The child was born with a tooth in the centre of the lower gum, which was removed by the attending physician, Dr. Nelson O. Brooks.

Itching, torturing, skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one wild. Doan's Ointment is praised for its good work. 60c at all drug stores.

Crawford Boilers

Guaranteed RATINGS

protect you from wasting money on "the next larger size" that is so generally recommended and so generally accepted in order to be "on the safe side."

When you specify a Crawford Boiler for your home you are buying a heat-rating that is guaranteed.

A Crawford Boiler rating is a standard of heat measure. You are guaranteed the heating capacity is there.

A building is always warm, comfortable and healthful with a Crawford Boiler at work in the basement.

Crawford Boilers are also economical. They give more heat per pound of coal than any other boiler. The deep, roomy fire box is responsible. It insures a dependable, slow-burning fire—with plenty of reserve capacity—that is not overtaxed in zero weather. A Crawford Dealer will gladly give you the other reasons why there is no better Boiler made.
